

IT IS OVER.

Fierce Struggle Between the Anthracite Coal Mine Operators and Thousands of Strikers, is Ended.

"It is Not a Concession to the Miners"

Said President Olyphant, of the Delaware and Hudson, "It is a Concession to Humanity." The Strikers However, Claim They Have Won a Signal Victory and are Everywhere Quite Jubilant.

WASHINGTON, OCT. 14.—THE OFFER OF THE COAL OPERATORS SUBMITTED TO THE PRESIDENT LAST NIGHT, THROUGH THE MEDIUM OF J. P. MORGAN, IS REGARDED HERE AS A PRACTICAL SURRENDER OF BARR, AND HIS ASSOCIATES. THERE IS VERY LITTLE DIFFERENCE BETWEEN THIS OFFER AND THE ONE MADE BY MITCHELL AT THE CONFERENCE IN THE PRESIDENT'S OFFICE, OCTOBER 3, REJECTED AT THAT TIME BY THE OPERATORS. ATTACHED TO MITCHELL'S PROPOSITION WAS THE PROMISE OF IMMEDIATE RESUMPTION OF WORK AND A STIPULATION OF AN AGREEMENT ON THE BASIS OF A TRIBUNAL'S AWARD FOR ANY PERIOD FROM ONE TO FIVE YEARS. ATTACHED TO THE OPERATORS' PRESENT OFFER IS THE STIPULATION OF IMMEDIATE RETURN TO WORK WITHOUT DISCRIMINATION AS BETWEEN UNION AND NON-UNION MEN AND A PROMISE TO BE GOVERNED BY THE AWARD OF THE PRESIDENT'S COMMISSION FOR AT LEAST THREE YEARS. THE DIFFERENCE BETWEEN THE PROPOSITION, IF THERE IS ANY, IS ONE OF SENTIMENT. UNDER THE AGREEMENT WHICH MITCHELL PROPOSED, THERE WOULD HAVE BEEN A POSITIVE RECOGNITION OF THE UNION. UNDER THE OPERATORS' PROPOSITION, PRESIDENT MITCHELL AND THE MINE WORKERS' UNION ARE RECOGNIZED TO THE EXTENT THEY ARE RECEIVING ALMOST THE IDENTICAL OFFER THAT THEY THEMSELVES SUBMITTED TEN DAYS AGO. ROOSEVELT IS DELIGHTED WITH THE OUTCOME. HE IS PARTICULARLY PLEASED WITH THE PART WHICH SECRETARY ROOT PLAYED AND THE SHARE HE HAD IN BRINGING ABOUT THE RESULT.

SUDDEN SYMPATHY

Of Operators for "Humanity" and Good of the Country.

New York, Oct. 14.—President Olyphant, of the Delaware and Hudson, made this important statement in answer to a question as to whether he considered the proposal a concession to the miners: "It is not a concession to the miners. It is a concession to humanity. This move is directed to remove distress prevalent in the country. Want of coal is not a matter to be considered, lightly and the presidents of the coal roads have felt it more than any one else. We have been trying to do our best for New York, but New York is only one point to be now trying to do our best for the whole country."

PIERPONT MORGAN

refers to be Very Clam-like Regarding the Strike.

Washington, Oct. 14.—J. P. Morgan, a partner, Robert B. Bacon, and Secretary Root, took breakfast together at the Arlington. Morgan was held up as he left the dining room, and asked whether he had any statement to make regarding the latest offer of the operators. He replied, without turning around: "Haven't I had enough for one day?" Neither Secretary Root nor Mr. Bacon, who desired that Mr. Morgan had anything to say on the strike situation. Morgan, accompanied by Bacon, left on his special train over the Baltimore and Ohio for New York at 9:50 o'clock this morning.

MINERS JUBILANT

Over Prospects That the Long Struggle is to End.

Wilkes Barre, Oct. 14.—Reports received from all out lying towns are to the effect that the miners are jubilant over the news received from Washington and believe the end of the strike is in sight.

THE MINERS

Are Glad of the Settlement and the Relief it will Bring.

Tamaqua, Pa., Oct. 14.—News that the coal operators had agreed to stand by the decision of a board of arbitrators was received with keen satisfaction here. When the miners heard the news, they looked at one another in wonder, scarcely believing that the struggle which was waged so fiercely was to be brought to an end. There was little outward demonstration. The business people and the general public who have suffered considerably were a different look this morning. The hope of a speedy settlement worked like magic on them. Mitchell is saying nothing and news from him is awaited with interest.

PRES. MITCHELL

Says He Has Received No Notification of a Settlement.

Wilkes Barre, Oct. 14.—President Mitchell said, coming down to breakfast this morning that he had received no official notification of the proposed matter of arbitration and had no statement to make at that time, nor would he give one out for publication until such notification is made. Mitchell has summoned the district presidents and they are on their way to this city.

FIVE MEMBERS

Will Constitute the Important Committee of Arbitration.

Washington, D. C., Oct. 14.—The operators have agreed to the appointment of a committee to be appointed by the President of the United States, to whom shall be referred all questions at issue between the companies and their own employees whether they belong to a union or not, and the decision of the commission shall be accepted by the operators. The commission is to consist of an army or navy engineer officer, an expert mining engineer not connected with the coal mining properties, one of the judges of the United States courts of the Eastern district of Pennsylvania, a man of prominence, eminent as a sociologist and a man who by active participation in mining and selling coal is familiar with the physical and commercial features of the business. The operators also make a part of their proposition that the miners shall return to work as soon as the commission is constituted, and cease all interference with non-union men. The commission to name a date when its findings shall be effective and to govern conditions of employment between the companies and their own employees for at least three years.

THE PROPOSITION

Which Was Made by the Coal Operators to the Miners.

Secretary Cortelyou, by authority of those present at the white house, made public the following authorized statement concerning the conference: Mr. J. Pierpont Morgan came to Washington with his partner, Mr. Bacon, at the request of the U. M. W. committee, who desired that Mr. Morgan had anything to say on the strike situation. Morgan, accompanied by Bacon, left on his special train over the Baltimore and Ohio for New York at 9:50 o'clock this morning.

To the Public.

The managers of the different coal properties comprising the anthracite coal fields wish their position in the present strike to be understood, and therefore make the following statement of facts:

There are in the anthracite regions about 75 operating companies and firms, and 147,000 miners and workmen (of which 30,000 are under age), comprising some 20 nationalities and dialects. Of these workmen possibly one-half belong to the United Mine Workers, of which Mr. John Mitchell is president. That organization was originally formed in the bituminous coal region, and three-fourths of its members are miners of bituminous coal and bituminous coal is sold in active competition with anthracite coal. The remaining workmen in the anthracite fields either belong to no union whatever, or do not belong to the Mine Workers' union.

The present strike was declared by the Mine Workers' union on the tenth day of May, 1902. Since that time many workmen not belonging to the union willing to follow the union were working in and about the mines. Many more have wished to work, but have been prevented by a course of violence and intimidation towards those working and towards their families, accompanied by the destruction of properties and the fear of death or bodily harm to every man who wishes to exercise his right to work.

A schedule is annexed hereto, showing some of the things done to create this reign of terror, and every instance stated can be verified by reference to the officers of the law—civil and military—in the anthracite region. This violence has continued and steadily increased, notwithstanding repeated disavowals by Mr. Mitchell and it is clear that he either cannot or will not prevent it and that the rights of other workmen cannot be protected under the supremacy of the Mine Workers' union.

The companies believe that the wages paid in the coal regions are fair and full, and that the business in its normal condition has been able to stand if the capital invested is to have any reasonable return. The profits have been so small several of the companies have become bankrupt and been reorganized several times. Several have never paid dividends and dividends of others have been small returns for the capital invested.

It is not, however, the purpose of this statement to discuss this question.

The undersigned are not and never have been unwilling to submit all questions between themselves and their workmen to any fair tribunal for decision. They are not willing to enter into arbitration with the miners' union, a union chiefly composed of men in a rival and competitive interest, and they are not willing to make any arrangement which will not secure to the men now working and now or hereafter wishing to work, whether they belong to the Mine Workers' union or not, the right and opportunity to work in safety and without personal insult or bodily harm to themselves or their families. For these reasons the arbitrations heretofore proposed have been declined.

The First Conference.

It will be remembered that at the conference in Washington, Oct. 3, we made the following offer:

"That we would take up at each colliery any alleged grievance, and in the event of a failure to make satisfactory adjustment, the questions at issue to be submitted to the final decision of the judges of the court of common pleas of the district in which the colliery is located."

This offer was made by us in good

EPISCOPALIANS HOLD A SESSION

At Which Most of the States are Represented.

Albany, N. Y., Oct. 14.—The twenty-first congress of the Protestant Episcopal church opened its sessions in this city today with a large attendance of leading clergymen from all parts of the United States. Holy communion was celebrated in the morning, Bishop Burgess officiating. In the afternoon the delegates visited various points of interest, and later there was a reception in their honor. The regular program will be taken up this evening. The visitors will be welcomed by Bishop Doane, following whose address there will be a discussion of the church and the drama, the speakers to include the Rev. Dr. Floyd W. Tompkins, of Philadelphia, the Rev. Dr. Henry Lubbeck, of New York, and the Rev. Arthur B. Kincaid, of Brooklyn.

TRUSTS

Are Cutting a Large Figure in

The Ohio Fight

And May Defeat Two Congressmen.

The Republican State Managers are Very Much Alarmed

Over the Situation in the Third and Twelfth Districts, Where the Coal Question is Paramount.

Columbus, O., Oct. 14.—(Special) The pending coal strike is giving the Republicans, not only in Ohio but in Pennsylvania, Indiana, West Virginia as well, considerable concern, and cause for worry over the result of the election in the close congressional districts. Congressman Grosvener pointed out the danger of millionaire Glisson in his telegram of several days ago, when he appealed to the latter to use his influence with J. Pierpont Morgan to end the strike. The Ohio Republican managers fear the state is going Democratic, and some of them admit that they see defeat in the Twelfth (Columbus) and Third (Dayton) districts. The danger of losing the Columbus district is particularly great.

happens greater than in the Third. While this city is virtually at the mouth of the Hocking Valley mining district, the people are suffering for the want of fuel and have to pay a fabulous price for coal, and should a cold spell happen to here in sight, then suffering in this city among the poor would be fearful. Mr. Morgan is held responsible for this condition, not only on the ground that he could end the strike by saying the word, but he is at the head of the combination of mining interests in the Hocking Valley, which has always resulted in high prices for coal to consumers.

The situation in the close Indiana districts is so serious that Chairman Dick has been appealed to to send Senator Hanna into that state, to help the Republican candidates that Senator Hanna had promised to go in to Indiana, but now that he has had to cancel some of his Ohio dates, there is not much probability of his making the Hoosier state. Chairman Dick, however, talked with the senator over the long distance phone yesterday, and announces that Senator Hanna is so much improved that he will in all probability take up his speaking itinerary in Ohio the latter part of this week.

FIRST REUNION

Of Kentucky Presbyterian Synods Since the War.

Lexington, Ky., Oct. 14.—For the first time since the civil war, when they were separated on the slavery question the Synods of Kentucky of the Northern and Southern Presbyterian church are holding a joint session here. The occasion is a celebration of the one hundredth anniversary of the establishment of a Presbyterian church in Kentucky. The sessions will last several days and the program provides for addresses by several speakers of note.

BOAT LOST IN A GALE.

Ten Members of the Crew are Still Missing and Fear for Their Rescue From Watery Grave Expressed.

Ashtabula, Oct. 14.—The steamer C. B. Lockwood, bound for Buffalo, went to the bottom at 6:45 o'clock last night in a gale, 15 miles west of here. There was barely time for the crew to escape in two yawls, one of which picked up here this morning. The other yawl with ten men aboard, is still missing and it is feared, lost. Life savers and tugs are patrolling the lake. So far as is known, those in the missing boat are: John Bultz, Toledo, second mate; David Burns, Marietta City, Mich., first engineer; Henry Rosner, Fair Haven, Mich., second engineer; Fred Green, Marine City, fireman; Julius Schmidt, residence unknown, fireman; Jos. Parey, Fair Haven, Oiler; two firemen, unknown, three deck hands unknown. Captain C. Saphit, of Bay City, Mich., his wife, Mrs. Davis, a guest; first mate, two watchmen; two wheelmen and one caulker were in the rescued yawl.

PIOUS FUND CASE HAS BEEN SETTLED.

International Court of Arbitration Decides Against Mexico.

The Hague, Oct. 14.—The international court of Arbitration today decided the pious fund case by condemning Mexico to paying $1,450,000 in silver to the California bishops. The case which is the first of some before court, arose out of a fund authorized in Europe in 1897 for the support of California missions. It was administered by Mexico from 1787 until the conquest of California by the United States. Since that time the respective responsibility of the two nations for the fund has been in dispute.

HOPE IS GONE GLIMMERING

Of the Conference Committee Adopting the Code Bill.

The Trinity of Big Bosses, Cox, Hanna and Foraker are Whipping in the Subtrans to Support the Board Plan, and They Will Probably Succeed.

Columbus, O., Oct. 14.—(Special) Arbitration in the code bill is a hope that has gone glimmering, and Representative Guerin now admits that there is no hope of the conference committee adopting it. He has been trying to do his utmost to have the code approach home rule as near as possible, and still believes that the house members will hold out for single headed departments, but admits that the strongest pressure possible is being brought to bear for the board plan. This is where the great fight will be. Both Senators Foraker and Hanna are urging the board plan, and telegrams were received in large numbers last evening from Cincinnati business men, evidently instigated by Cox, calling on the committee to adopt the board plan.

There seems very little hope of the provision for the appointment of a state civil service commission. The conference committee failed to get together yesterday, and in consequence another day has been lost, and the finishing up of the code bill delayed. Senators Harding, Patterson and Archer failed to report for duty, the former being out in the state making Republican speeches, while Senator Patterson was very busy at the Republican headquarters, he being chairman of the speakers bureau. The fact of the matter is that the campaign, now drawing to a close, and becoming warmer each day, is of more interest to the members, right at this time, than the code bill. Probate Wants Independent Boards. Secretary Probst of the state board of health, is very anxious to have the board of health sections in the code stand as they originally stood in the municipal code. He will insist that the boards be independent bodies. Electricians of Ohio are Together. The eighth annual convention of the Ohio Electric Light associations convened in this city this morning and was called to order by President M. F. White, of Cincinnati. Fully two hundred prominent electricians of Ohio and the east are expected during the sessions.

NOVEL

Device Adopted to Bring

Slot Machines

Into a Position Where They Can be Used

Without Violating the Gambling Laws of the State of Ohio.

It Works to the Advantage of the Gum Maker and Helps Beat Out the Sheestrung Gambler.

Columbus, O., Oct. 14.—(Special) This city is now in the throes of an anti-gambling crusade, and has been for several weeks. For a while slot machines were ruled out, but now, partly as the result of the stormy conference held in the Director of Public Safety's office last Friday night, and partly as the result of the opinion rendered by Police Prosecutor Shields, and principally as the result of the storm of indignation raised by liquor dealers over the order for the removal of merchandise machines from the saloons, the slot machine has come back and there are now hundreds of them throughout the city doing a land office business. The saloon keepers have adopted a novel device. They have cards printed and tacked on the machines informing the public that the machines are no gambling devices, that the player always gets the worth of his money, and often more than its worth in merchandise, and that no money is played in them. The player buys a "slug" for five cents or puts a penny in the poker machine, and if he does not draw a prize he gets a stick of chewing gum. The liquor dealers declare that they will not be discriminated against in favor of the professional gambler, and the professional gambler is a protected quantity in this city at present. Must Pay the Dew Tax. Persons who sell intoxicating liquors in houses of ill-fame, and in municipalities that have voted to exclude traffic in liquor, are liable of the Wine and Beer laws, and are permitted to evade the law by selling on such business because it is illegal inconspicuously as it may seem, yet assistant attorney general Todd has rendered an opinion to the state auditor that though the state has by law prohibited a certain business it can still collect a special tax upon that business, where it is conducted in spite of the prohibitory law. Vice President is in Command. The chair of president of the Ohio League of Retail Clerks, held by Hugh Cavanaugh, of Cincinnati, was declared vacant by the executive committee of that organization at a meeting held in this city, and John F. Watson of the local union here, who has been the vice president, was elected to fill the vacancy. The committee held that Mr. Cavanaugh's relations with the international were such that it would militate against the league to have him remain as president. It will be remembered that the Cincinnati union, to which Mr. Cavanaugh belongs, recently had trouble with the international regarding the per capita tax.

Astonished the State Commissioner. State Fish and Game Commissioner Porterfield has returned from Buckeye Lake, where he and several deputies cleared the reservoir of fishing nets. They were kept very busy, and in one day raised fifty nets, some of them with mouths large enough for a man to stand erect in. One net alone held several bushels of fish, fine white bass. All the nets were confiscated. Mr. Porterfield was astonished at the amount of illegal fishing that has been going on there, and an investigation will follow.

RICHMOND

Follows Indiana With a Horse Show.

Richmond, Va., Oct. 14.—Everything is in readiness for the opening tonight of Richmond's annual horse show. The big auditorium building has been remodeled and its seating capacity of 7,000 will doubtless be taxed to accommodate the brilliant gathering of the beauty and fashion of the state. The entry list for the show is unusually large and in quality the finest ever seen in the south.

NEWS CONCERNING SOUTH LIMA FOLKS.

Important Events Which Have Transpired on the South Side.

About ten o'clock this morning the south Lima fire department was called to the Robert Hill block on south Main street, near Kibby. The fire was in the recently established tailor shop of L. H. Richards. The proprietor had left the room for a few minutes. In his absence the stove became overheated. This, with a defective flue, resulted in the ceiling of the room becoming ignited. When the department arrived the flames were spreading over the garret. The fire was quickly extinguished, but not without considerable damage resulted. Mr. Richards is not certain whether he will re-engage in business in this locality.

Nearly Frozen.
Officer Hillestein, who is now doing duty in south Lima, this morning found a man about seventy-five years of age, in a box car in the Lake Erie Western railroad yards. When discovered the man was nearly frozen. It is quite possible he had remained there much longer he would have perished, as he is in an infirmed and condition. He was taken to police headquarters by Mr. Hillestein. The unfortunate man will be properly attended until he recovers.

Will Build.
The trustees of Euclah mission yesterday purchased a desirable lot on second street, where they will build new church for the recently organized congregation. Work upon the new structure will not begin until next spring.

Badly hurt.
Frank Ostman, while playing yesterday, fell, painfully lacerating his face. He also sustained a number of painful bruises.

Shot at Prowlers.
An exciting incident occurred on Tanner avenue Sunday night. For some time residents in that locality have been annoyed by persons prowling about their premises. Sunday covering, Mrs. Mary Kimes, went out upon the porch at the rear of her home to secure a glass of water. While at the pump, some miscreant seized her. She screamed for help. Members of the family came quickly to the rescue. The scoundrel fled. A gentleman who was calling at the house at the time, secured a shot gun and fired twice in the direction of the fleeing man. Mrs. Kimes was unable to distinguish who it was that accosted her.
Peculiar Accident.
Samuel Sullivan, experienced a peculiar accident yesterday afternoon. He was watering his team at the fountain on east Vine street, when one of the horses suddenly tossed its head, forcibly striking Mr. Sullivan in the face. One of the gentleman's teeth was broken off, causing great pain.
A Hard Fall.
Mrs. P. K. Mitchell, of west Eureka street, while engaged about her household duties, fell heavily, severely spraining her right hip. It will be several days before she is completely recovered.
House Burglarized.
The residence of B. Michell, on west Spring street, was entered by burglars last night, while the family was absent. The thieves secured about $17 in cash.
In Business.
John Norman, well known to many in south Lima, has engaged in business at Dunkirk. Numerous friends wish him success.
Taken Ill.
C. T. Seals, who calling upon the trade in south Lima, yesterday, became suddenly ill from an acute attack of neuralgia of the stomach. For a time his suffering was intense. At a drug store he recovered temporary relief after which he proceeded to his home.
Disgraceful Theft.
Local friends of the family have learned that during the funeral in Huntington, Ind., of John Swartz, who was killed in the south Lima railroad yards last week, thieves entered the home of his parents, from which the funeral occurred, and completely ransacked the residence, stealing a large amount of valuable articles.

Received a Call.
After the services Sunday evening the congregation of the south Lima Baptist church, met to hold a business session, in which a formal call was formulated, requesting Rev. L. H. Schmitz, of Ada, to accept the pastorate of the church. He has not yet given assent, but as he recently resigned his charge at Ada, it is quite probable he will become the pastor of the people who have extended him a unanimous call. It is expected he will answer definitely within the week. In the interim, Mr. Schmitz, assisted by Rev. O. L. Martin, of Kenton, Rev. W. H. Gallant, of St. Marys, Rev. Bossett, of Marion, Rev. Corbon, of St. Marys and singing evangelist W. E. Houghton, will conduct special evangelistic services at the south Lima Baptist church. These meetings will be interesting in every detail. A special feature will be the singing by Messrs. Houghton and Schmitz. The latter is an able pulpit orator whose masterly sermonizing is making a favorable impression. There will be preaching at the church each evening this week. The duration of the special services will depend upon their success. Those held so far have been gratifying.
House Burned.
The south Lima fire department was called to the home of John Mutter on Reese avenue, yesterday afternoon. A brisk fire was found in progress at the rear of the house. Mrs. Mutter built a fire and went out to the meat market. In her absence the fire flamed up causing the stove pipe to become overheated, which ignited the boards surrounding the pipe thus causing the fire. Before discovered the flames had spread well over the kitchen. By effective efforts the department soon had the flames under control, but not until considerable damage resulted. The house furnishings were also badly damaged by water. An insurance of two hundred dollars was carried upon the house.
Missionary Meeting.
The Missionary society of the south Lima Baptist church will hold a meeting at the home of Mrs. Clement Dyster, on Madison avenue, Wednesday afternoon. Foreign and home topics will be considered. After the literary features, a social session will be enjoyed.
Typhoid Fever.
Miss Anna Armstrong, of Reese avenue, is convalescing from a severe attack of typhoid fever.
Eisteddfod.
A number of south Lima persons interested in musical affairs, contemplate attending the eisteddfod at Gomer, Wednesday, October the fifteenth.

Successful Meeting.
The annual session of the Auglaize Baptist association, just adjourned, was one of the most successful in years. All of the affairs of the association were found to be in a most satisfactory condition. Talented speakers from surrounding cities discussed church matters. The attendance of delegates was large. Foreign and home missionary work is progressing pleasingly. Reports from these departments were gratifying. The report of the condition of the local churches were among the best made.
Grand Ball.
South Lima relatives received invitations to attend a grand ball given by Miss Cora Furney, of Kenton, in the Tally Ho club rooms, in that city last night. Miss Furney is well known here having frequently visited at B. G. De Voe's, on south Elizabeth street. Charles De Voe with a party of musicians from Toledo, rendered the music for the occasion.
Became Demented.
Rinehart Sorgen, of Columbus, having a number of acquaintances here, has unfortunately become at least temporarily demented.
From the Card Tray.

EMPLOYEE

Becomes a Partner of Altschul Bros.

Fred Moran, of Findlay, Winning His Way in the Business World.

This morning Fred Moran, for the past five years an employee of the Altschul Bros. Co., of this city and Lima, entered the Findlay office on west Crawford street, as a partner, says the Findlay Courier. He ceased to be an employee last Saturday night.

The success of Mr. Moran has been meteoric. He started in on the ground floor but his hustling qualities bounded into prominence and his ability was soon recognized. Steadily he advanced until he held the highest position in the local office. Here he next won merit recognition for accuracy and reliability and his reward came as related heretofore.

Mr. Morgan is just twenty-one years of age. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Edward Moran, of west Main Cross street, this city, where he also resides. Although he has never permitted social duties to interfere with business, he is and has for several years been a social leader among the young folks. He is a member of several clubs and was until a recent election, president of the Moderates.

Mr. Moran's many friends will be pleased to know of his good fortune and will not hesitate to wish him success as a real business man.

PUBLIC OWNERSHIP OF MINES.

The New York democratic convention has taken a very decided stand for the permanent settlement of the anthracite coal mining troubles for all time by the adoption of the following plan:

We advocate the national ownership and operation of the anthracite coal mines by the exercise of the right of eminent domain with just compensation to owners. Ninety per cent. of the anthracite coal deposits of the world being in the state of Pennsylvania, national ownership can but be in the interest of the whole people.

Fuel, like water, being a public necessity, we advocate national ownership and operation of the mines as a solution of the problem which will relieve the country from the sufferings which follow differences between labor and capital in the anthracite mines. This course will insure peace in the mining regions and remove the cause for differences leading not only to suffering, but oftentimes to bloodshed and insurrection. It will relieve the consumers of coal, not only in this state, but throughout the whole country; insure steady employment and ample compensation to labor; transfer children from the mines to the schools; insure, strengthen and preserve the stability of the business interests and of the popular institutions of our country. Whatever differences of opinion may exist over other propositions of public ownership, the property of that policy, as applied to anthracite coal mines, must be apparent to every citizen.

PRESIDENTIAL STUMPING.

The President's abandoned speaking tour, or in language of Andrew Johnson's time "swinging around the circle," has given rise to a good deal of sensible discussion that each tour be abandoned. And why not? It certainly adds no dignity to the office of the President nor decrease the information and intelligence. It is all right and to be commended that the President of the United States should communicate freely and frequently with the people. But, why should a President fall back on an inconvenient a-fatiguing and even a dangerous position for the nation and collection of crowds, it shows a weakness. The crowds may not addressees, but the quiet and observant citizen does.

The World points out that every attempt to convince public opinion and carry selections by this method of stumping tours has failed. It failed notably in the case of President Johnson, and the attempt was productive of much evil and bitterness in political debate. Blaine lowered the country and talked himself hoarse, while Cleveland stayed at home and was elected. President Harrison in 1890, midway in his term, made an oratorical railroad trip of 10-000 miles, delivering 140 speeches in thirty one days. But the silent Cleveland defeated him for election. Wm.
J. Bryan has twice broken all records at a traveling campaign orator, and both times was defeated by William McKinley, who talked and traveled much less.

The President or candidate on the stump can be heard or seen by a mere fraction of the voting population.
Those who cannot attend and remain away are stunted to criticism and fault-finding. The World states the fact when it says: "The daily press is the decisive forum in which political issues are nowadays discussed and settled. Campaigns speeches are effectual only to the extent to which the press carries them to the millions by whom they are not heard."—New York World.

A CAMPAIGN OF FALSE PRE-TENSE.

But little more than a month will intervene before the close of the congressional campaign. In many respects it has been peculiar. The issue between the two parties has not been very clearly defined. The Republicans being in power, are naturally on the defensive. But there is no uniformity in the sort of defense which they make, and none of the different lines of defense can be hailed as adopted in good faith. Different factions of the Republican party are answering one another.

Republican state conventions have been almost unanimous in commending reciprocity with Cuba. It is asserted that several of its opponents have lost their nominations, but on the other side Republicans say that the failure of these men was not due to their attitude on the Cuban question.
At the same time some of the bitterest enemies of reciprocity have been renominated. Where reciprocity is popular it is confidently predicted that it will be accomplished after the election. Where it is unpopular the people are told that the Cuban reciprocity scheme is dead.

But why should anybody believe that the Republican party intends to do anything with reciprocity? It was condemned in the national convention of 1896, and the next year the tariff was constructed with special reference to making it high enough to stand a cut of 20 per cent by reciprocity treaties. This was called providing "something to trade on." Mr. Mc-Kinley took this in good faith. He employed Mr. John A. Kasson, an Iowa man by the way, to negotiate a series of reciprocity treaties, which he did. Mr. McKinley sent them to the senate. The last speech which he ever made was a powerful plea for action on these treaties. Because he did not specifically mention them on is now said that his speech was a plea for reciprocity in general. But a new congress was about to assemble, and while Mr. McKinley spoke of reciprocity in general the intent of his remarks was well understood at the time. But after the death of Mr. Mc-Kinley the interests that had got the 20 per cent advance "to trade on," repudiated the contract and insisted that no reciprocity treaty be approved and they had their way. With this experience of six years, during which Republicans have been talking reciprocity and refusing to adopt it, what reason have the people to be longer deceived by mere words?

Decidedly the same may be said of the talk about the trusts. That some Republicans are serious in their opposition to monopoly may be freely admitted. But an overwhelming majority of them are openly defending the trusts, or telling how impossible it is to reach them without hurting some one else, or proposing impossible remedies which will consume a great deal of time without serving any useful purpose. On this question also the history of the party shows its real attitude. There was a good deal of talk of trusts as early as 1888, though they were then objects of dread rather for what they threatened than on account of what they had accomplished. They were then very number as compared with the present.
In 1890 the Sherman anti-trust law was passed as a concession to public opinion. There was a good deal of backing over this achievement, which was hailed as the death knell of the trusts. But not a trust has been killed by it, not one has been checked in its career of extortion. On the contrary, they have multiplied mightily and are creating the prosperity of the country and the nation. The trusts are the backbone of the nation. The publican writers and speakers. Why should anybody look to the Republican party for relief from monopolistic practices?

On the tariff issue the party is greatly divided, but the majority are unquestionably against revision. They deny that the tariff can possibly shelter monopoly, though the minority show by unanswerable arguments that it has done so and does so still. Here again one set of Republicans may be left to answer the other. Nevertheless it is plain that the majority do not intend to do anything to correct the enormities of the existing tariff. Now then a Republican starts up, aided by Mr. Babcock, demanding reform, but means are found to silence him.
Mr. Babcock, for example, has already been silenced, and is now, as head of the congressional campaign committee, busy eating his own words.

These are a few specimens of the sort of campaign the Republicans are making. There is nothing in any of their lines of defense to inspire a moment's confidence. Evasion and false pretence pervade them all.

THE PLACE FOR THE PRESIDENT.

The safest place for the president is at Washington. It is the intention of the people that the president shall remain in the national capital to attend to business except when on a vacation or off on special business. We do not believe that it is any part of the president's business to spend his time on the political stump. Last month the president had a narrow escape from death while on a political tour, and at present, he is temporarily disabled as a result of injury in that accident. If the president remained at his post in Washington, he would not be exposed to the accidents incident to stumping the country.—Lowell

MRS. CLARK

States Her Side of "Short-lived Happiness" Case.

Says Her Husband's Arm was Cut by Broken Glass and That No Butcher Knife was Used.

Lima, O., Oct. 14, 1902.
Mr. Editor:—I read in last Saturday's issue of the Times-Democrat an article under the head of "Short-lived Happiness," in which my husband, Hugh D. Clark, alleges, in his application for divorce, that I was abusing my daughter Opal, and that he interfered, and that I became enraged and attacked him with a butcher knife, cutting him in the hand and on the arm. Now the truth of the matter is:
My daughter had disobeyed me, and as punishment, I spanked her, as any mother would do under the circumstances. This so enraged Mr. Clark that he acted as a crazy man, and just slammed things in a violent manner, breaking the glass in the door, which separated us. This is how his arm was cut; there being no butcher knife in the case; no abuse to my child; no row; only what he made; nor has he adopted my children, only in our marriage he is their stepfather. I wish to correct a wrong impression that has been published. I do not in any way abuse my children or husband. His story was purely imagined. The result of an over-wrought mind caused by loss of temper. We are still living together, and I hope public sentiment will not accuse me as unjustly as did he in a fit of anger.

Yours respectfully,
MARGARET C. CLARK.

Mr. Clark's Statement.
Editor Times-Democrat.
I have withdrawn the divorce suit which I filed Saturday, Oct. 11th, and I wish for the public to know that I was in the wrong in the making of a few statements to the reporters concerning my family affairs, and also I wish the public to be convinced that my wife was right in correcting her daughter, and I should of not have interfered with the correcting performance.

It has been a long, long time since the American people have gazed upon a more pathetic national figure than Uncle Marcus A. Trenchard of Ohio.
He is being killed by a combination of circumstances that he vainly struggles to control him; a position that pains him, evidently, from the back of his neck to the heavy place on his head. According to his despairing testimony, he is having all sorts of trouble in fighting down the popular notion that he is or ought to be a candidate for the pres-dency of these United States.

We think it is one of the saddest things on record that the people will not believe that Uncle Marcus is in politics from the sublimity of unselfish motives. They do not seem to catch on completely to the fact that he left the delights of private citizenship only because he saw the country drifting to the demerol bowwows. It was a pure piece of patriotism on his part when he caught it by the tail and yanked it back from perdition and planted it safely on the rock of prosperity.

Incidentally it was necessary for him to have a president to do the official chores of the salvation scheme, and yet more incidentally it became a matter of precaution to get John Sherman out of the United States senate and get himself in, just to see that none of the Democratic scabs in that power house monkeyed with the dynamo or crossed the feed wires. And all went well until anarchy stepped in and changed the whole face of affairs.

Since the Roosevelt accession the position of Uncle Marcus has been one of uncertainty. It is true that he has professed the largest loyalty to the president, but somehow the presidential coterie has not accepted the tenders at par. There is a large, rank suspicion in administration circles that "the old man" is playing Foxy Grandpa in the political game, and the way in which he holds on to the loyal regard of the moneyed magnates of the party and keeps in touch with the southern delegate makers and takes to himself the indorsement of the Ohio Republican machine that he might have turned to Roosevelt if he had chosen to do so are symptoms that the White House party views with alarm.

Still Uncle Marcus protests that he is not an aspirant for the presidential nomination of his party. And why should he not be believed? The administration ought to help him establish the fact, especially if it wants a chance to get the nomination again and try for a re-election, because if Uncle Marcus is forced to be the candidate in 1904 the Raking the Republican party will get from the people will be plenty for a long period in the future.

The Coal Trust and the Public.
The coal trust operators are persistent in their position that they own the coal mines and can do as they please with their own work or they remain idle. This argument fits closely that of the railroad magnate who said, "The public be damned." But the coal operators must remember that while as corporations they have no soul they also have no endless life, but are subject to the law of forfeiture of their franchises, which would at once end their existence.

This position is well maintained by the New York World when it says:
"The coal mines of this country are not the coal operators' own property in an unequal sense. They only hold and work them under public franchises, charters and other grants of public privilege, all of them conditioned and all of them revocable. The first condition is that they work the mines and supply the public with coal.
They are not doing it. They say they cannot because the men on strike will not let them, and they cannot or are not prepared to put other men at work in their places. If that is all true, then there is something to arbitrate. If it is not true, then they should mine coal and are violating their franchises every day they keep their plants idle."

faith and we desire here to reaffirm it.

The coal companies realize that the urgent public need of coal, and the apprehension of an inadequate supply for the approaching winter, calls for an earnest effort to reach a practical conclusion, which will result in an increased supply, and the presidents of the companies desire to make every effort to that end which does not involve the abandonment of the interest committed to the care, and of the men who are working and seeking to work in the mines. This responsibility they must bear and meet as best they can.

They therefore restate their position: That they are not discriminating against the United Mine Workers but they insist that the miners' union shall not discriminate against or refuse to work with nonunion men, that there shall be no restriction or deterioration in quantity or quality of work and that, owing to the varying conditions of the anthracite mines, each colliery is a problem by itself.

We suggest a commission be appointed by the president of the United States (if he is willing to perform that public service) to whom shall be referred all questions at issue between the respective companies and their own employees, whether they belong to a union or not, and the decision of that commission shall be accepted by us.

The Commission.

The commission to be constituted as follows:

1. An officer in the engineer corps of either military or naval service of the United States.
2. An expert mining engineer, experienced in the mining of coal and other minerals and not in any way connected with coal mining properties, either anthracite or bituminous.
3. One of the judges of the United States court of the Eastern district of Pennsylvania.
4. A man of prominence, eminent as a sociologist.
5. A man, who by active participation in mining and selling coal, is familiar with the physical and commercial features of the business.

It being the understanding that immediately upon the constitution of such commission, in order that idleness and nonproduction may cease instantly, the miners will return to work and cease all interference and persecution of any non-union men who are working or shall hereafter work.
The findings of this commission shall fix the date when the same shall be effective and shall govern the conditions of employment between the respective companies and their employees for a term of at least three years.

... Away at His Home in Delphos.

... J. Lye, an Old and Esteemed Citizen Joins the Majority.

... morning about 10 o'clock the late Francis J. Lye passed away at home of his son in law, S. F. Lye on East Third street, Delphos. He was born in the hamlet of Schiller, Alsace Germany March 1817. In 1828 his father came to Delphos with his family. They settled in Delphos and afterwards went to Delphos and then to Tiffin. He was married in McCutcheonville, Ohio Miss Anna Burdick. Soon after marriage they came to Delphos. Mr. Lye began life at wagoning (his father's business) and six years took up the hotel business. He was interested in most of the important industries of Delphos in early days. Upon his arrival in Delphos he conducted a general store in frame building where the Phelan now stands, having acquired the timber off the ground in Delphos. He also built what is the Long elevator and was identified with the organization of the Unioning Mills.

... services were held from St. church this morning at 7:45. He remains interred in the East cemetery in Delphos.

... Returns to Dispatchers Office.

... Is Succeeded at Findlay by a Former Pennsylvania Man.

... Annual Meeting of C. H. & D. Stockholders Held in Cincinnati Today—No Changes in Directory Expected.

Concerning Charles Ruse who has been promoted from the position of agent at Findlay for the L. E. & W. to a trick in the dispatchers office in this city a Findlay paper says:

Mr. Charles Ruse, the popular agent of the local office of the L. E. & W. has resigned. The resignation took effect Sunday evening. Mr. Ruse goes to the train dispatchers office at Lima, O. a much more important and lucrative position. The promotion is deserved and is highly pleasing to the many friends of the departing agent.

Mr. Ruse came to Findlay from Portia two years ago during which time his work has been eminently satisfactory to the Lake Erie officials. He leaves a host of Findlay friends.

J. W. Witmer of Pittsburg has been appointed as his successor. The new agent assumed charge of the office this morning. He came highly recommended and will no doubt prove a capable man.

Mr. Ruse is not a stranger in this city, having lived here as a train agent for the Lake Erie R. Co. for many years.

DIVIDED

... Before on High School Question.

... Another Vote Leaves the Location in Doubt

... And the Two Factions are Still at War—Several Members Absent When the Vote was Taken.

It was plainly demonstrated at the meeting of the board of education last night that the settlement of the high school question is as far removed as ever, and the contending factions whose point of dispute is the location of the much-mourned structure are as firmly cemented as when the project first came to be considered.

Mr. Spiker brought the old skeleton out and held it up to view for a moment but it required but a single vote to send it back to the closet. As is well known, Mr. Spiker is the champion of the idea to locate the building as near as possible in the center of the city, and naturally he is supported by the members who come from the south side. On the other hand there is a faction equally as strong contending that the logical place for the building is on the west end lot where the old scarecrow ward school rears its rusty walls.

Mr. Spiker's motion to fix the location between Elm and Market on the north and south and between Main and Fierce on the east, and west was amended by Mr. Prophet who declared in a few remarks for the west building grounds. The amendment was voted on first and lost the roll call resulting as follows:

Yeas—Prophet, Mrs. Vicary, Moorey, Donahue and Klatte, Naves, Spiker, Bates, McClain, Fenwick and Miss Disman.

Both the amendment and the original motion were lost but the question will likely be raised again when there is a full representation of the board present.

... The resignation of janitor Dunbar, as developments proved, turned out to be the most important question of the evening, at least so far as discussion was concerned, nearly every member of the board taking a whack at the subject under consideration. It was precipitated by chairman Irish of the teachers and salaries committee, who presented a new proposition. It was the conclusion of at least two members of the committee that

... $95 per month was too much for janitor services at the Garfield building compared with the recent adjustment of janitors salaries at so much per room, and the committee recommended that the salary be fixed at $85 per year. A competent man it was believed would take the place at that salary and be able to pay for such assistance as was necessary in caring for the engines and building.

Mr. Davis, the other janitor, had declared he would not undertake it for the salary offered which would necessitate his resignation if the committee report was adopted and this emergency was not pleasing to several members of the board who would like to have Mr. Davis remain. Other declared that it would not be economy to employ a 'cheap' man as the damage he might do to the engines would more than equalize the salary not paid and the one suggested.

The motion of the committee to fix the salary at $85 was amended by Mr. McClain who suggested that bids be received for the position. The amendment carried but the original motion was lost which likewise defeated the amendment and the incident was closed for the evening.

Superintendent Miller reported among other things the assignment of Miss Bessie Hughes to the A grammar grade at the west building to fill the vacancy caused by the resignation of Miss Nellie Stephens. Miss Little after an absence of several weeks on account of illness, has returned to work. At the present there are six young ladies who have attended the training school now awaiting assignments. They are Misses Agnes Connell, Laura Prall, Verna Driver, Leana Saunders, Genevieve Henry and Matilda Robinson.

The teachers and salaries committee recommended an increase of salary from $75 to $60 to Miss Gladys Eppert, principal of the Shawnee building, which the board consented to. There was another post mortem held on the picture question, but it was buried deeper than ever by a report made by treasurer McClain on

JANITOR QUESTION OPENED A DEBATE

But the Board of Education Locked Horns on the Salary Question.

The board of education met last night with President Prophet in the chair and the following members present: Miss Disman, Mrs. Vicary, Messrs. Bates, Blattenberg, Irish, Donahue, Mooney, Spiker, McClain, Fenwick and Klatte.

Among the communications read by Miss Disman was one from janitor Dunbar, offering his resignation as janitor at the east building. On motion of Mr. Klatte it was accepted. Peter Mumaugh made application for the position of engineer at the east building.

A contract from Holland Bros. for the rental of the high school building at $2600 was read, but the question of furnishing heat being still in doubt the matter was referred to the law and contract committee.

The special committee appointed for the purpose of adjusting the books of the clerk and treasurer did not report, but Miss Disman stated that she had received aid from Mr. Warner, who had recently been employed as an expert to audit the accounts and the discrepancies discovered. The accounts were balanced and Miss Disman's report adopted.

Mrs. Vicary recommended to adopt a text book in mental arithmetic was carried by a small majority. Bates, Spiker, Fenwick and McClain opposing it. The book to be used was left for the committee to decide later.

Mr. Mooney of the building and repairs committee reported repairs having been made at several of the buildings in a small way. Grates replaced, closets connected and a general cleaning up which has netted the board $11 for junk.

Carroll & Cooney.

The financial situation of the board Mr. McClain stated that there was now $6,827.58 in the treasury, which is but more than enough to pay the salaries for the month. There is no chance of replenishing before the middle of January. With that condition of affairs the idea of resurfacing the $500 worth of unframed pictures was not considered.

Referring to the treasurer's report Mr. Prophet explained that there was a new law in effect which would permit of an issuance of certificates before the regular draw.

The finance committee reported the following bills which were allowed: F. E. Wood estimate on Shawnee building $600. Ohio National bank interest on bonds, $50. F. A. Holland rent $216.67.

The board adjourned at 10 o'clock.

IMPORTANT NOTICE TO THE SUBSCRIBERS OF THE CENTRAL UNION TELEPHONE COMPANY.

This company will tonight transfer all subscribers from the old to the new switch board and this will necessitate changing about 75 per cent of the subscribers' numbers.

Number of Men
Will Exceed Half Million

In the United States Coal Mines.

Some Interesting Facts Bearing Upon That Industry.

Millions of Dollars Worth of Fuel Produced, But Thousands are Killed and Injured in Doing It.

Washington, Oct. 14.—(Special.)— The volume of mineral resources of the United States for the calendar year 1901 now in press, United States Geological Survey, presents some interesting statistics of the labor in the coal mines of the country.

From 1898 to 1901 inclusive, the statistics of coal production were as follows: In 1898 the average number of men employed was 491,221 and they averaged 190 working days during the year, producing 219,871,667 short tons of coal, valued at $208,900, 850. In 1899, 470,365 men working 194 days produced 255,739,982 short tons, valued at $256,077,434. In 1900, 448,581 men working 212 days produced 269, 682,857 short tons valued at $306,671, 364. In 1901, 435,544 men working 215
days produced 262,298,516 short tons, valued at $315,910,469. In 1898, the average price of coal per ton was 95 cents. In 1899 it was 1.01, in 1900 it was $1.14. In 1901, it was $1.13.

According to the two great divisions of the coal industry, the bituminous and anthracite, the statistics are as follows: In the bituminous coal industry in 1899, 192,204 men working 226 days produced 111,392,322 short tons, valued at $119,420,801. An average of 2.56 tons per man per day and of 579 tons per man per year. In 1899, 239,982 men working 194 days produced 133,118,119 short tons, valued at $115,779,771. An average of 2.90 tons per man per day and of 581 tons per man per year. In 1900, 304,375 men in
tons, valued at $226,449,439, or 2.94 tons per man per day and 561 tons per man per year. The average price of bituminous coal per short ton in 1899 was 99 cents, in 1898 86 cents, in 1900, $1.04, in 1901, $1.05.

In the anthracite mines in 1899 the number of miners was 126,091, who in 240 days produced 16,154,611 short tons, valued at $66,383,772, the average production being 185 tons per man per day and 369 tons per man per year. In 1898, 142,917 men produced in 196 days 57,999,737 short tons, valued at $62,019,272. An average of 2.97 short tons per man per day and of 406 tons per man per year. In 1900, 144,208 men working 186 days produced 57,367,915 short tons, valued at $65,767,851, or 2.40 short tons per man per day and 398 tons per man per year. In 1901, 145,399 men worked 196 days and produced 67,471,667 short tons, valued at $112,594,020, an average production of 2.38 short tons per man per day and 464 tons per man per year. The average price per short ton of anthracite coal in 1899 was $1.43; in 1898 it was $1.41, in 1900 it was $1.49, and in 1901 it was $1.67.

In the last twelve years the number of workers in the anthracite mines has increased from 123,000 in 1890 to 145,399 in 1901, or over 15 per cent.
During the same period the number of men in the bituminous mines has increased from 192,204 to 435,544, or a little over 77 per cent.

The statistics of accidents in the mines in the calendar year 1901, already published in part, shows that 1,467 men were killed, 2,634 men were injured, and that 158,668 tons of coal were mined for each life lost. In the bituminous mines of the country 954 men were killed and 2,490 were injured, in a total of 349,235 men at work; in the anthracite mines 513 men were killed and 1,334 were injured, in a total of 145,399 at work.

The statistics for Pennsylvania al-show 301 men killed, 656 men injured and an average of 273,289 short tons of coal mined for each life lost. In the bituminous mines, and 513 men were killed and 1,243 men injured, and an average of 121,524 short tons of coal mined for each life lost in the anthracite mines. It is interesting to note that in Pennsylvania the number

LEGALITY

Of Important Cases Will Soon be Determined.

Washington, D. C., Oct. 14.—After a recess since the first of June the United States Supreme court has reassembled for the fall term.

Among the first cases to be heard are those of Bird against the United States brought to determine the ju-sality of the murder trials in Alaska; the Lone Wolf case involving the validity of an act of Congress relating to Kiowa Indian lands and the prize money cases of the United States against Admirals Dwyer and Sigsbee.

Gained Forty Pounds in Thirty Days.
For several months our younger brother had been troubled with indigestion. He tried several remedies but not to benefit from them. We purchased some of Chamberlain's

HEBREWS IN ROUMANIA

How They Are Treated by the Balkan Government.

WHY CONSIDERED UNDESIRABLE.

As Descendants of Romans the Romanians Have Long Standing Prejudices Against the Jews—Would Keep Them Wandering.

Roumanian Jews, about whom Secretary Hay addressed a note to Europe, says the New York Evening Post, are among the most undesirable immigrants which come to these shores. In 1900 large numbers of them had to be denied admission to the country, and this summer Ellis Island authorities had to send back numbers of them because they were destitute or diseased.
Roumanians' persecutions of these people gave Mr. Hay a motive for asking that the powers which are responsible for the existence of Roumania shall persuade that government to be more liberal and not force its Jews by hard customs to flee to this country.

Jews in America approve his note because it may ameliorate conditions in Roumania. Social students approve because such immigrants are likely to become a charge upon American institutions. All the Jewries of Europe have the complaint that we have, and, excepting possibly Russia, whose tactics Roumania is copying, all the powers are expected to support the communication.

Practically what the United States is interested in is that it shall not be burdened with Roumanian's outcasts. "The purposes of our generous treatment of the alien immigrant is to benefit us and him alike, not to afford another state a field upon which to cast its own objectionable elements."

Roumania helped the Russians in the Turko-Russian war in 1877, saved Russia indeed at the siege of Plevna and when peace came proclaimed herself independent of the suzerainty of Turkey and asked that the congress at Berlin give her recognition. Beaconsfield was an influence in that congress, and before Roumanian's request was acceeded to she was required to abrogate all her anti-Jewish enactments and agree that "in Roumania the difference of religious creeds and confessions shall not be alleged against any person as a ground for exclusion or incapacity in matters relating to the enjoyment of civil and political rights, admission to public employments, functions and honors or to exercise of the various professions and industries, as well as guaranteeing that all foreigners shall be treated, without distinction of creed, on a footing of equality."

This was imposed upon Roumania in the way that the Platt amendment was imposed upon Cuba. She accepted it and then disregarded it, until the list of her discriminations has reached large dimensions.

Jews are not admitted there to the practice of law. They are regarded, though centuries in the country, as "aliens not subject to foreign protection." To become naturalized (only 400 out of the 400,000 are citizens) each applicant has to be passed by parliament.
One of the school grammars, illustrating a rule of syntax, says, "You must not believe the word of a Jew even when he is at the point of death," another says, "Ginsops are kept by Jews, who, like leeches, suck the blood of peasants by enticing them to drunkenness."

Jewish schools were closed in 1890 because they were not kept open six days a week (that included Saturday, the Hebrew Sabbath). Jewish communities were deprived of control of the kosher meat tax on which their schools and churches largely depended. In 1887 it was decreed that Jews should be admitted to public schools only after the Roumanians had been accommodated. In 1893 they were excluded for being aliens, but could enter if there was room upon payment of a fee. The university, free to Roumanians, charged 300 francs a year to aliens. Though admitted to the army, the Jews, being aliens, did not, like others, earn pensions by two years' service, and they were not eligible to military academies.

APPEALED TO MRS. HANNA.

Senator's Wife Orders Nonunion Men to Quit Work.

Mrs. Hanna, the wife of the senator, took a hand in a labor controversy and succeeded in winning the good will of every member of the Painters' union, says a Cleveland special. A house on Russell avenue which is owned by the senator was being repaired, and a force of sixteen men employed by a contractor was at work there. The men did not belong to the union, and their employer would not recognize the union.

Union officials discussed the matter Friday night and decided to do something. It was deemed advisable to send a committee to see Senator Hanna, but as he was out of town the committee called on Mrs. Hanna instead.
When she had heard the complaint, she ordered her carriage, drove to the house and ordered the painters to cease work. They obeyed her, and later every one of them joined the union, their employer signing the union agreement.

A WORD TO FARM TOILERS.

Paine's Celery
Compound

The Home Friend of the Farmer and His Family in the Autumn Season.

After the labors and toils of the summer time, and harvesting of crops in the early autumn, many of our farmers, their wives, daughters, and sons, find themselves in a condition of health demanding careful attention if suffering is to be avoided later on.
Many experience kidney trouble in some form; with some the liver is torpid; there is biliousness, nausea and vomiting, with loss of appetite and depression of spirits. Thousands who have been exposed to cold, damp winds and rains while toiling in the harvest fields, now feel the twinges of terrible rheumatism; others run down by worry, overwork and irregular dieting, are tormented with the pangs of dyspepsia.

To the thousands of rundown, sickly and half dead men and women in farm homes we recommend with all honesty and confidence the worker's friend, Paine's Celery Compound, the only medicine that can quickly and fully restore strength to the weak body and vigor to the muscles. Paine's Celery Compound tones the stomach; it removes poisonous acids from the blood which cause rheumatism. It focus the weak and diseased nerves and banishes neuralgic tortures. It purifies the blood and gives true vitality and life. The use of Paine's Celery Compound in autumn means the establishing of a perfect physical vigor to withstand the rigors of a severe winter.

SHORTAGE

In the Cash Accounts of the Treasurer

Of Colored Knights of Pythias Caused Trouble.

When the Officials of the Columbus Lodge Wanted to Find Their Treasurer That Individual was Missing.

Columbus, O., Oct. 14.—The colored Knights of Pythias appear to have considerable trouble here of late with their treasurers. Last summer, it developed that the order's grand treasurer for Ohio was short cash to the amount of about $2,000, and he could not definitely locate the money, and has not to this day, so the order is out just that amount. It now develops that the treasurer of the local lodge here Jeremiah Jackson, is short just $651.03, and is himself missing. It appears that last April, the lodge drew a warrant for $60 with which to pay its dues to the endowment rank, whose headquarters are in Piqua. Subsequently the endowment rank notified the lodge that it was still in arrears.
Lodge officers thereupon took Jackson to task about the matter, but he declared that it was a mistake at headquarters, that the money had been paid.
Another order was drawn on the lodge's treasurer, but the check came back protested. A committee was then appointed to inquire into the condition of the fund supposed to be on deposit to their credit at a local bank, but to their amazement, they discovered that there was not a farthing in the bank. A hunt was then made for Jackson but the bird had flown, and even his wife could give no definite idea where her defaulting husband was. The lodge has now taken out an attachment on his home. The de-falcation of the great treasurer had a bad effect on the order, and this new development is calculated to greatly lessen enthusiasm in colored Pythianism.

GOV. NASH IN TOWN

But He Found There Was Nothing Doing in the Political Line Without Senator Hanna.

Gov. Nash arrived in Lima today from Findlay and was registered at the Lima house, where he was installed as a guest of honor, all of which is due to the chief executive of the state whether on a political or private mission.

His coming to Lima today was not so much for the purpose of making another of the advertised Hanna party, which failed to materialize, as it was to get connection for Lima where the Governor and others were billed to speak this evening. The sudden illness of the junior senator has sadly disarranged the schedule, and it will take a week or more before the Republican campaign committee will be able to adjust affairs and pick up the broken threads.

There was a stir among the ranks when the arrival of Gov. Nash was made known, and the month's buzz around the candidate's visit was passed down the line that the Governor had followed the example of Mr. Hanna, and taken to his bed, preferring to remain undisturbed so long as there was a promised rest from the arduous duties of a "strenuous" campaign.

In the meantime, the bosses got together and arranged to receive the Governor when he arrived from his sickbed. A dinner which should be attended by the wheel horses, was a neat way of covering up the retreat and when Mr. Nash appeared in the lobby of the hotel, he was introduced in the old mechanical way to a small gathering of the G. O. P. class.

In the meantime, a representative of the Times-Democrat got on the ground floor and following the prophetic introduction learned that Mr. Nash fully expected to find Mr. Hanna and his party at Lima today. His first inquiry was for a telegram but none had arrived. A few moments later, the clerk at the Lima house, delivered a message which stated that the chairman supposed Gov. Nash had been fully advised of Senator Hanna's illness and the cancellation of his engagement at Lima. "All of which," remarked the Governor "means that Mr. Pattison overlooked what he perhaps intended to do, or have done."

"What time can I get a train for Columbus?" asked the Governor of the Times-Democrat man.

"At 4:33," was the response, "but" was the pardonable interjection, "are you not going to Lima for a meeting this evening?"

"No, sir, I'm going to Columbus on the first train."

And there was something in the tone of voice which delivered the reply that scarcely needed further questioning.

It was plain that Governor Nash was in need of rest, whether on account of physical disability or chagrin for having been so flagrantly neglected. The words of distress were plainly written and he evidently thought that the time between one o'clock and 4:33 would be monotonous enough for one who had counted on an afternoon of political excitement.

Mine Host Koch had busied himself preparing an elaborate dinner and when it was ready for the serving, the following gentlemen were invited to sit down with the distinguished guest: Mayor Rogers, Col. Moulton, C. M. Overly, president of the city council, Editor Campbell of the Gazette, City engineer Toy, Lou Ashton, Art Morris, postmaster (blunder) Huss, of New Bremen, postmaster Ashton (Louis brother) of Spencer, and chief of police Mills, in full regalia.
